

The Anatomy of a Blog

Diario de un Profesor de Inglés

Para mis alumnos y visitantes. Ayuda para el autoaprendizaje de inglés.

Acerca de

Me llamo Paco Bazaga Calderón. Soy profesor de la Escuela Oficial de Idiomas de Madrid (Jesús Maestro).

El Inglés Comercial junto con mi afición a la informática determinan la creación de este cuaderno de bitácora o weBLOG.

Con él pretendo experimentar las posibilidades de la integración de Internet y otras herramientas informáticas en el aprendizaje casi autónomo de idiomas. Más concretamente, el objetivo

● 6/2/06 STARTING OVER
The cycle begins again with a new course, new pupils, new visitors (I hope!).

My job now will consist on building more links, activities, exercises on what existed before....

FOR THE NEWCOMERS to this weBLOG:

1. first thing to do: visit the files posted in October last year (10/05) and gain some knowledge of what we have been doing on the blog.
2. know that this is meant to be a collaborative platform specially devoted to supplement our lessons starting from your contributions and (I hope occasionally) mine.

For the time being: WELCOME TO THE BLOG -THIS IS OUR ROOM- AND THANKS FOR YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS!

Paco Bazaga
In charge of the Business English Course at the Escuela Oficial de Idiomas de Madrid - Jesús Maestro.

At the top –above this- there is the “Presentation” of the blog – WEBLOG- and immediately beside it – on the right hand side- the regular “postings” organized in reverse chronological order, and containing: tasks, advice, recommended links to sites of interest directly connected with daily lessons, etc.

You can participate by clicking on “Comentarios” and sending comments, links, texts, etc which will be published as well.

Beside this –left hand side – a list of permanently recommended links to websites of general interest.

Below, you will find the index of postings organized monthly according to their date of publication. If you click on each month you will have access to all the postings published during a given month. In October, for example, you will find a detailed syllabus of the Business English Course you have just joined.

ENJOY THIS RESOURCE. I HOPE YOU WILL BECOME A REGULAR CONTRIBUTOR TO IT!

Best wishes,
Paco Bazaga
